TO SIR (M S KAMAT) WITH LOVE

Dr Cidalia Boudade

I thank God for stitching beautiful people in the fabric of my life. Their colourful patterns and personality have added richness to my life and one such person is Principal M S Kamat.

An educationist of eminence and a thorough gentleman with a smile that can light up a thousand bulbs, this describes Mr Kamat, a very humble and principled man who has always been a staunch crusader for youth empowerment through education, skill formation and overall enlightenment. He is the founder Principal of MES College and has educated and empowered a countless number of students. Mr Kamat always gives without thinking what he will ever get in return. As the Principal of MES College, he advocated and practiced participative authority and not a dominating authority. He has always focused on the positives in life and looked for positivity in his staff, students and the people around him. He is a father figure, mentor and guide to all who come in touch with him.

Mr Kamat is lively man and there is never a dull moment in his company. He is proactive, has the habit of taking people up with him and never ever criticizes or pulls anybody down. He is humane and attracts people to him with the great qualities of head and heart that he possesses and displays. He believes in a win-win attitude. I have never ever seen him grumble or complain about anything or anybody.

Late Mr Vasantrao Joshi had handpicked Mr Kamat and entrusted MES College into his able hands. From then onwards there was no looking back, either for him or the college. The college was shaped and chiselled with élan and dignity in such way that Mr Kamat was synonymous with MES College. Today he stands tall as the Chairman of Murgaon Education Society.

I am personally indebted to Principal Kamat for all the help and guidance that he has rendered to me. The doors of his house were always open to me whenever I needed his advice. Mr Kamat is a person who will never ever walk out on you or let you down. In fact he walks the talk with you. He is a great friend in good times but becomes a much better friend and human being in your bad times. He stands by you and is always ready to stretch his helping hand and put in extra effort to help you out of any difficult situation. Very few people have this selfless quality in them.

From Principal Kamat I have learnt many great lessons for life. I learnt that it is important not to measure personal success and a sense of well being through material possessions. I learnt the power of disagreements, of dialogue and the essence of living with diversity in thinking. He also taught me by example a very different definition of success - that it is about giving back more to life than what you take out of it. It is about creating extraordinary success with ordinary lives.

On February 9, 2015 he completes 80 glorious years. Age is strictly a case of mind over matter, and if you do not mind, it just does not matter. Age is not a destination it is a journey. On his 80th birthday I wish him a very happy birthday and all the best that life can offer. I bask in the blessings that life has given me in the form of great people like Mr Kamat, who have taught me lessons and changed the way I look at life.

Sir, on your birthday I wish to say a big thank you to you. What can I give to you that will make up for the lessons that I have learnt from you? Sir, you wanted the sky I would write across the sky a letter, that would soar a thousand feet high, and the address would read 'To sir with love'

Murgao education society management, principals of the college and higher secondary, staff, students and Apo Major James Christopher are proud of their achievements and congratulate them.

Talk on Acchev by Gorak Sirsat at Carmel College

BY FIONA FERNANDES AND FANISHA D' COSTA

Goa - one of the smallest states of India, with its serene beauty is slowly falling into the clutches of a material world which is destroying its natural landscape. Such a scenario is also portrayed in our literature where Goa is being dug out of existence. Acchev / The Upheaval the Konkani novel by Pundalik Naik is included as one of the texts for study at the final year for students of Konkani as well as English (in translation). To get an in-depth idea of the destruction of Goa's forests, villages, family life and individuals due to mining, the department of English, Carmel College, Nuvem, organised a talk on the said novel on February 7, 2015 in the college. The guest speaker was Gorak Sirsat, assistant professor, department of Konkani, MES College, Zuarinagar. Teacher of Goan writing, department of English, Carmel College, Brian Mendonça introduced Sirsat.

In order to set the right environment, Sirsat started his talk by showing a video on the destruction caused by mining in Goa. He highlighted a few facts like: out of 769 mining leases allowed in India, 359 of it itself are in Goa, ie nearly 47 per cent of the total leases in the country. It showed how Goa is being destroyed and degraded.

In the 3-hour talk and discussion session Sirsat mentioned that Acchev is not just a novel but a literary document and that we should take it as a window to look out at the bigger picture outside. He gave a comprehensive explanation regarding the structure of the novel stating that the Goan environment is the backbone of the novel without which the novel ceases to exist. The in-depth portrayal of rural life in various aspects is seen in Acchev.

Literature is said to be the mirror of the society and Acchev proves it beyond any doubt. It mirrors each and every aspect seen in our society where people compromise their family life and nature for the greed of money. Nature is treated like a living being, plants and trees personified and every action of the characters is symbolic.

Sirsat pointed out that in the narration of Acchev, the narrator is nowhere to be seen and the author uses the technique of showing rather than telling. The entire narration is based on reality and not just imagination. In case of characters each character has his/her own unique identity which unfolds step by step from the start to the end of the novel. Each character develops itself through various events and his/her unique language vocabulary, changes according to their childhood, middle age and old age.

The second aspect he highlighted was about translation where he stated that there are some laws in it. The translator having omitted some words in the process of translation, the text loses its essence. Therefore what reaches out to the wider audience is sometimes not up to the mark of the original piece.

Sirsat gave an overview of Goan literature from the establishment of the first printing press in Goa in 1556 to Konkani today. Lastly he explained how to study the novel from the examination point of view keeping in mind various aspects of the novel. The talk and discussion session attended by students of TY BA English and Konkani department was indeed very informative. Fiona Fernandes of TYBA English department and Fanisha D'Costa of TYBA Konkani department gave the vote of thanks.

Official Language day Celebrated at MES College

Konkani has been an official language of Goa for last 28 years but sadly the implementation of it has not been materialised at the government level. This was expressed by eminent writer and Sahitya Akademy award winner Dilip Borkar. He was speaking as a chief guest during the 'official language day celebration' function organised by department of Konkani of MES College of Arts and Commerce, Zuarinagar. Principal, R B Patil, professor, Vasant Sail, vice principal and professor Satyawan Naik, head of Konkani department were also present on the date.

"If Konkani is implemented in all walks of life in Goa then the problem of the sustenance of Konkani people will be easily taken care of. The government should use Konkani in its affairs which will make it easy to increase its reach to the common man," said Borkar.

He further added, "Every

Every Goan should know the importance of their mother tongue and the official language.

Goan should know the importance of their mother tongue and the official language.

Konkani became the official language of Goa after a long struggle. The supporters of Konkani language had to undergo strikes, lathi-charge, movements, processions and physical as well as mental assault, which ultimately resulted in the inclusion of Konkani as an official language."

Today the Konkani speaking youth has become lethargic and is ignorant towards many social, political, economic and cultural issues, he is not ready to raise his voice against injustice in society and this leads us to introspect. He urged the Konkani youth to raise his voice against various issues facing the society.

Earlier principal R B Patil welcomed the gathering while professor Satyawan Naik introduced the guest. Nikhita Morjkar was the compere and professor Vasant Sail proposed the vote of thanks.

Opinion Poll Day at MES College

NT KURIQCITY

"We were successful in preserving our cultural identity because we won the Opinion Poll," Fr Mouzinho Ataide

The Opinion Poll day remembrance programme was organised by department of Konkani of M E S College of Arts and Commerce on January 16. Fr Mouzinho Ataide was the chief guest and commemorated the day by lighting the traditional lamp.

Fr Ataide expressed that it was because of the victory attained in the Opinion Poll that Goans could successfully preserve our Goan identity, our language Konkani, the Konkani culture and heritage. Principal R B Patil, associate professor Sandhya Bhandare Sequeira and the head of Konkani department, professor Satyawan Naik were also seated on the dais.

The Opinion Poll which took place on January 16, 1967, is a significant historical event for Goans. The opposition tried to merge Goa with Maharashtra by deceiving many with the idea that Marathi was the language of Goans, but the true sons of the Goan soil, namely Uday Bhembre, Jack Sequeira, Purushottam Kakodkar, Shankar Bhandari, Ulhas Buyao,

The Opinion Poll which took place on January 16, 1967, is a significant historical event for Goans.

Shabu Desai and a newspaper daily, "Rashtramat" convinced Goans that Goa should remain independent as it belongs to Goans. Thus, the Opinion Poll was won in favour of an independent existence for Goa. Had the Goans not exercised their power of discretion and prudence then, we wouldn't be living as Goans today and Goa would have remained as a small district of Maharashtra.

Goa's all round development has only been possible due to the victory in the Opinion Poll.

"The Opinion Poll gave us a sense of pride towards our language and our land. It took the Konkani language to the Sahitya Akademy, which conferred upon it the status of official language when Goa attained its statehood and Konkani secured a place for itself in the eight schedule of the Indian Constitution," informed Fr Ataide.

Earlier, R B Patil welcomed the gathering while professor Satyawan Naik briefed about the programme. Professor Gorak Sirsat and Sanyax D'souza recited the poems of late B B Borkar which was written on the Opinion Poll. Nikhita Morjkar compere while Sirsat proposed the vote of thanks.

EDUCATION MES College sets its sights on wider academic horizons

The Murgaoon Education Society's College of Arts and Commerce at Zuarinagar, is the only college in the Mormugao taluka. This institution has been striving to provide relevant and quality academic facility for the students of this locality.

In keeping with this aim, the college is in the process of obtaining certification of the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) - the national body that assesses the quality standards of academic institutions. Three cycles of assessment has already been completed and syllabus has been formulated in consultation with the Shipping industry and the faculty is also from those experienced in the industry. This department has an Advisory Committee with members from the industry. The enrolment for this course has been very positive with students from Ratnagiri and Mumbai also joining.

It is planned to commence post graduation in Commerce (M.Com) from the next academic year as many of the 240 commerce graduates passing out every year join other colleges for their post increase in co-curricular and extra-curricular activities. On the sports and cultural front, the college participates at the inter-collegiate, State and National levels. Three students participated in the Republic Day Parade this year.

Upgradation of the institution's infrastructure has seen a tremendous spurt in keeping with the growing needs of the college. Over Rs.10 crores has been invested in infrastructure development. The new Block IV houses the new Admin requirements and additional

The Principal Shri R.B. Patil took over last October and has been with the college for the past 30 years and was the Vice Principal for 4 years. He elaborated on the vision of the institution:

"Our emphasis is on innovative demand driven skill based job oriented courses. Every department will run one such course which will ensure better employability. The exam-marks system is not creating thinking individuals. Our aim is to create innovative creative students".

the certification is expected to be received in May. The college received 4 Stars in the first cycle and a B++ grade in the second cycle.

The college has over the years been making steady progress in academic and infrastructural facility. Starting with a student strength of about 300 students, the college now caters to around 1200 aspiring graduates.

On the academic front, the college has been adding courses that are relevant to the needs of industry and stressing on the employability of those passing out. The BBA course was instituted in 1990-2000, BCA Course in 2000-01, B.Com Shipping Management in 2006-07.

The latest in the bouquet of courses is the BBA Shipping and Logistics Course that commenced in 2013-14. This unique course is one of its kind and is industry specific. The graduation. A full fledged MBA course is in the offing once the new block is ready. Research Centres in Sociology, Economics, and English is envisaged.

The college also offers several Certificate Courses in NGO Management, Tally Accounting Package, and Counselling. Coaching for the Common Proficiency Test for Chartered Accountancy and Company Secretary is provided.

The college conducts several Student Enrichment Programmes that includes the Annual Commerce Day, EcoFest, PsychoFest, Socio-Expression, Lakshya(BBA) and Synergy(BCA). Field trips and educational tours are also organised. It is planned to invite eminent personalities for talks and conduct debates on contemporary issues to widen the horizons of the students.

There has been a tremendous classrooms. A new Management Studies Block and a Ladies Hostel is under construction. The college has a mini football ground and a volleyball court. Sport equipment worth Rs.4.5 lakhs has been procured. Automation and digitisation of the administrative functions and the library is in progress. This institution has been doing yeoman service by catering to the academic needs of this locality, especially those from the lower economic strata.

The college is striving to fulfill the vision of its founder late Shri Vasantrao Joshi. The present trustees under the stewardship of its Chairman Shri M.S. Kamat, Vice Chairman Shri Paresh Joshi and other members of the Trust are committed to making this institution an academic force to reckon with.

4 GU colleges earn B grade from NAAC

Institutes Marked On Score Of 1,000 On 7 Criteria

TIMES NEWS NETWORK

Panaaji: Four Goa University-affiliated colleges were awarded B grade by the National Assessment and Accreditation Council (NAAC) at its standing committee meeting held this week.

Margao's Damodar College scored 2.81 on NAAC's Cumulative Grade Point Average (CGPA) system, where institutes are marked on a four point scale. PES College of Farmagudi scored 2.77 and Shri S Amblye Government College of Pernem earned a score of 2.47. MES College of Vasco earned a score of 2.47. While it was the third cycle of assessment for Damodar College and MES College, for PES College and Shri S Amblye Government College it was the second cycle.

The institutes are marked on a score of 1000 on seven criteria that serve as basis of the assessment procedures. It includes curricular aspects, teaching-learning and evaluation, research, consultancy and extension, infrastructure and learning resources, student support and progression, governance and leadership, innovative practices. Any assessment and subsequent accreditation is made with reference to a set of parameters so that the standing of an institution can be compared with that of other similar institutions in the country.

The grading of NAAC also determines the amount of financial assistance the institutes will receive from UGC.

For the assessment, the institution has to prepare a self-study report. After the report's submission to NAAC, an in-house analysis of the report by NAAC is carried out.

The institutes are then visited by a peer team of NAAC for validation of the self-study report followed by presentation of a comprehensive assessment report to the institution. The institute is then granted the grading, certification and accreditation based on the evaluation report by the peer team.
