

DEPARTMENT OF SOCIOLOGY

Programme Specific Outcomes of BA Sociology

After completing the programme, a Sociology graduate will be able to:

PSO1: Acquire a sociological perspective and contribute to understand social reality and actively participate in civic affairs.

PSO2: Have knowledge of basic concepts in sociology and compare and contrast various theoretical orientations with reference to social phenomena and occurrences.

PSO 3: Comprehend how theories reflect the historical and social contexts of the times and cultures in which they were developed.

PSO 4: Identify basic methodological approaches in building sociological knowledge.

PSO 5: Recognize the importance of reducing the negative effects of social inequality.

PSO 6: Apply critical thinking skills to sociological data and theory.

PSO 7: Present opposing viewpoints and alternative hypotheses on various issues.

PSO 8: Design a research study in an area of choice and develop specific policy implications of research and theories in the area,