- Report in brief:

M.E.S.'s Vasant Joshi College of Arts & Commerce, Entrepreneurship Club, Internal Quality Assurance Cell (IQAC) of the College in association with MOU CII (YI) - Confederation of Indian Industry (Young Indians) organized a session on 'Be a Job Creator rather than a Job Seeker' for the students of the college. The session was held on 1st October 2024 at 10:00 a.m. – 11:00 a.m. in Raj Tara Seminar Hall. The resource person was Ms. Laxmi Rajan Sinai Kunkolienkar, Lawyer and Entrepreneur.

Dr. Manasvi M. Kamat, Professor & Principal of M.E.S.'s Vasant Joshi College of Arts and Commerce, Zuarinagar addressed the gathering and welcomed the Resource Person with a potted plant. Associate Professor Ms. Rochana Kharangate introduced the Resource Person to the students.

The resource Person, Ms. Laxmi Rajan Sinai Kunkolienkar, in her talk emphasized the critical role entrepreneurship plays in today's world. She outlined how thinking of oneself as a job creator can lead to self-reliance, financial independence, and the creation of opportunities for others. In today's rapidly evolving job market, the traditional career path of education leading to stable employment is no longer the only viable option for success. Increasingly, individuals are encouraged to adopt an entrepreneurial mindset, becoming job creators rather than job seekers.

Ms. Laxmi Kunkolienkar highlighted that the fundamental difference between a 'job seeker' and a 'job creator'. She said that "Job creators take initiative, while job seekers are often reactive. A job seeker is someone who typically relies on established companies or organizations for employment. They search for opportunities within pre-existing structures, hoping to secure a position that aligns with their skills and aspirations. While this approach offers stability, it also limits personal growth and financial control. On the other hand, a job creator is an entrepreneur or innovator who starts a business or creates a new product or service, taking on the risk and responsibility of creating their own future."

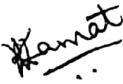

business or project, creating not only employment for themselves but also jobs for others. Job creators identify gaps in the market, develop solutions, and build businesses around these ideas, actively shaping the economy and contributing to society.”

Ms. Laxmi Kunkolienkar also outlined the key characteristics of successful job creators as one of the most important attributes is visionary thinking. In her talk she highlighted that ‘Entrepreneurs’ are able to see opportunities where others see problems. They have a clear idea of the future they want to create and the role their business can play in it. Starting a business is inherently risky, and entrepreneurs must be comfortable with risk taking and the possibility of failure. However, they assess risks carefully and make informed decisions to mitigate potential losses. Innovation is at the heart of entrepreneurship. Job creators are constantly seeking new and better ways of solving problems, whether it’s improving an existing product or offering a completely new service.

Lastly, Ms. Kunkolienkar spoke about the fear of failure as a psychological barrier that holds many back from pursuing entrepreneurship. Overcoming this fear and embracing failure as a learning experience is key to success. She urged students to shift from the mindset of being job seekers to becoming job creators.

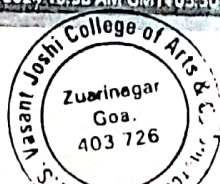

The Co-Coordinator and Chairperson of the Entrepreneurship Club, Assistant Professor Mr. Ismail Shaikh concluded the session by delivering the vote of thanks. The session was compered by Co-Coordinator and Chairperson of CII (MOU), Assistant Professor Dr. Rohita V. Kamat. A total of 77 students attended the session. Among them 44 were females and 33 were males.
